CHICKEN THIEVES OPERATE IN FALLOWFIELD TOWNSHIP

Seventy-Five Valuable
Fowls Taken From
One Roost

BLOODHOUND ON TRAIL

Many People Lose Poultry
Within Past Few Weeks
in This Vicinity

Carefully picking out the best fowls, chicken thieves removed about 75 chickens from the roosts of Mrs. Harriet Tuman who lives in Fallowfield township near town, some time after midnight. Bloodhounds were put on the trail this morning, and following the scent over the hill toward Eighth street Charleroi, then owing to the morning traffic in that neighborhood lost the trail.

No sound was heard of the chickens being taken during the early morning hours, but this morning when Mrs. Tuman went to the chicken coop to feed the chickens she found only about 25 of the nice flock of over 100 there. She immediately telephoned to Charleroi and David Mathers went out with his bloodhound. He had no difficulty in putting the dog on the trail and following it over the hill a considerable distance. Only the best of the chickens had been taken, the ones left being the least valuable of the flock.

Mrs. Tuman recently noticed two strange men hanging around near her farm, one a colored man and another a white man. They live in Charleroi, it is said. From their suspicious actions about the Tuman farm it is hinted that they may have been the thieves.

Not long ago Smith Frye lost 24 chickens and about the same time there were a number of valuable fowls taken from the roosts of Rev. J. T. Hackett on Fifth street. Chicken thieving has been prevalent in the entire vicinity within the past few months.

"The Two Strollers"

Without a doubt one of the best shows of the season will be seen at Coyle Theatre Saturday, March 18. "The Two Strollers" carry all their own special scenery, light effects and a company of fourteen people, all artists in his or her particular line.

The comedians are funny, capable of making people laugh out loud, the singers are good and the chorus are all pretty girls that can sing, dance and wear costumes to advantage. Specialties are introduced by the Smuckler Sisters, Tony Murphy, E. K. Armstrong, A. H. Steppes and Miss Mable Ray.

Rev. Cameron to Speak of
"Poet Laureate of Childhood" Tonight

"Eugene Fields, the Poet Laureate of Childhood" will be the topic of a lecture to be given at the Methodist Episcopal church tonight at 7:45 o'clock by Rev. Henry N. Cameron of Washington, a former Methodist minister of California. The lecture will be free and all are invited. It will be given under the auspices of the Athens Club.

SUNDAY IS INTERESTED

Much Anxiety Lest
Evangelist is Unable
To Come

Although an answer is not expected for some time yet from Evangelist "Billy" Sunday definitely announcing his decision on the invitation of Monessen people to come to this part of the valley, much interest is being manifested. The only way in which he will be able to accept the invitation is by a canceled date.

Charleroi people along with Monessen religious workers are interested in the movement to secure the noted evangelist. It is stated that Sunday is really anxious to come. When a committee from the Monessen Ministerial Association visited him at Lima, Ohio, some time ago he heard their invitation, after peremptorily dismissing committees from other towns. His dates are filled for about three year ahead. The present engagement will last for about three weeks longer, and he will not hardly be able to announce his decision on the local invitation until after that time. He will fill a date in McKeesport this summer.

WASHINGTON AVENUES ELECT THEIR CAPTAIN

To get matters in shape for the approaching baseball season, a meeting of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church league team was held at the church last night. An organization had been formed at a previous meeting by the election of Dr. J. W. Manon president and Paul Rylands secretary-treasurer, and last night John Barrass was elected captain. Plans were talked over for making the team a better one if possible than last season.

BROTHERS MEET FIRST TIME SINCE CHILDHOOD

Elizabeth Man and Charleroi Man Clasp Hands
After Years of Search on Part of the Former

After a search of years James McNatt of Elizabeth has been reunited with his brother Albert of Charleroi, and the two are now endeavoring to locate a younger brother. The latter has been living here for the past eight years, but never knew that his brother was only a few miles distant, and continued an unabated search for him.

When the young men were children, they were left orphans by the death of both parents at Connellsville. The home being broken up, there was no one to take care of the lads and after a while each of the three were adopted by different families. James, the older of the two, remembered his childhood days and when he grew to manhood tried unsuccessfully to find his brothers.

Not many days ago in talking with a Charleroi man, the matter was mentioned that a young man by the name of McNatt had been living in Charleroi. This clue was followed up with the result that there was a happy reunion. Neither James nor his brother Albert have any idea where to look for the younger brother, who is probably unaware that he has any close family connections.

EAGLES WILL HOLD SERVICES FOR THE DEAD ON SUNDAY

Well Known Speaker Engaged to Give Memorial Address

Charleroi Aerie No. 390 will have C. N. L. McDermott of McKeesport as the chief speaker at their memorial services to be held on Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Palace Theatre. Mr. McDermott is known throughout the valley, and has a reputation as a good orator. Prof. I. T. Daniel will have charge of the music, and the Elks' Chorus will render selections. Mrs. I. T. Daniel and Johnny Evans will render solos.

Classes Hold St. Patrick Day Social

At the home of Herbert Mason on Third street members of the Adelphean Bible Class and the Gleaners of the First Christian Sunday school held a "Shamrock Party" last evening. The rooms were prettily decorated in green and white and the same colors were used in the lunch. Shamrocks of all sizes were suspended from the chandelier and crepe paper was used to form the names of the two classes and for other decorations. The lunch consisted of "Murphy" salad, lettuce, sandwiches, pickles, green and white ice cream, cake and coffee. St. Patrick's Day post cards were cut in two and the girls and boys matched them. The partners were then given five minutes to write some "blarney" about each other. These papers were read, to the amusement of all. Other interesting games and contests were enjoyed. A contra solo was sung by Miss Georgia Parsons, a soprano solo by Miss Jennie Hornell and Robert McGowan rendered several selections on the piano, all of which were greatly appreciated. The Adelphean Bible class, composed of young men, is taught by Miss Belle Parsons. J. M. Whitlatch is the teacher of the Gleaners, the young ladies' class.

"The Rosary"

When Roland and Clifford's new play, "The Rosary," by Edward E. Rose, comes to the Coyle Theatre next Wednesday the discriminating public will be given an opportunity to see pictured before them the growing unrest and irreligion of our times. It is a faithful picture of the misery and unhappiness that surely comes upon a man who lacks faith in the supreme good and its triumphs in our world.

Can one evil mind poison a whole household? Is the human brain capable of producing disastrous effects upon a household by adverse suggestive thoughts?

Do we realize adequately how our mental attitudes influence our lives and the lives about us?

And the answer? Well, the play is the answer. First 8 rows 1.00. Last 8, 75 cents. First 2 in balcony, 75 cents balance 50 cents. Gallery 25 cents.

LOCAL PEOPLE HONOR IRISH PATRON SAINT

Reception To Be Given Tonight By Ancient Order Of Hibernians

The Irish and descendants of the Irish are today observing St. Patrick's day with special services in Charleroi. This morning at St. Jerome's Catholic church special high mass was held which was largely attended. The green is to be seen everywhere and the shamrock is most conspicuous. Tonight the Ancient Order of Hibernians will hold their annual observance at Turner Hall. The program consists of addresses by well known speakers, chief among which is W. J. Brennan, Esq., of Pittsburgh. Irish songs and dances will be a feature.

PENNSYLVANIA HAS BEST SUNDAY LAW OF ANY IN UNION

So Declares Lecturer in Talk on Sunday Observance Question

Rev. J. T. McCrory, one of the most noted ministers of the State, who is president of the Lord's Day State Alliance, last night gave a lecture on a Sunday observance topic at the First Christian church. His topic was "The Claims of the Rest Day."

Dr. McCrory gave as two reason for keepings "the Sabbath day holy" the authority of God and the physical demands. He treated the subject from a scientific view and spoke of the Sunday regulation in Pittsburgh now and as it was 30 years ago.

"Pennsylvania has the best law for Sunday observance of any State in the union," declared Dr. McCrory, "but it is no so rigidly enforced in some places as it should be."

Dr. McCrory came here at the instance of the Ministerial Association which has begun a movement for better Sunday observance in Charleroi.

School Closed Down by Reason of Disease in Up
River Town

On account of an outbreak of chicken pox, scarlet fever and diphtheria it was necessary to close the Allenport schools this week. DAN CUPID IS WINNER

Pretty Romance Culminates in Wyatt-Garr Wedding

Cupid wasn't to be downed by even a college president in the pretty little romance of Charles S. Wyatt, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Wyatt of Shady avenue, and Miss Sadie J. Garr, until recently head of the normal department of Morris Harvey college at Huntington, West Virginia. The young woman is no longer Miss Garr but Mrs. Wyatt, the ceremony which united the two lives being performed yesterday morning in Huntington the protests of the college president that a career was far better than even a happy marriage still ringing in the ears of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt are now visiting the former's parents and they will remain in Charleroi for a few days at least.

Mr. Wyatt and Miss Garr met some time ago, and after he had gone to Huntington to sing in recitals came the announcement of the forthcoming wedding. That didn't exactly please Prof. R. H. Alderman, principal of the Morris Harvey college, who rightly had a very high opinion of Miss Garr's ability and didn't want to loose her valuable service. But that didn't make much difference at the time being, but after the marriage license had been procured Miss Garr was persuaded to change her mind about getting married. She remained in her place the remaining days of the week, but Cupid was mad at being bested in the first combat, and soon had matters coming his way again with the result that Mr. Wyatt went to Huntington from Philadelphia where he had been, following the first break and before Prof. Alderman hardly knew it the couple were wedded. He heartily congratulated the couple, however, although sorry to lose so efficient instructor as the bride. Mr. Wyatt is well known in Charleroi although he has been making his home mostly in Philadelphia.

Governor Tener's Idea
to be Carried Into Effect

PREVENTS UNJUST RATING

People Would Have Court
of Appeal on Grievances
Against Corporations.

(Special Correspondence)

Harrisburg, March 17.—The Public Utilities Commission bill, which Governor John K. Tener advocated in his inaugural message, will be introduced in the Legislature the latter part of next week. It has been carefully prepared by Attorney General John C. Bell, and will be ready for final inspection by Governor Tener on Monday. The bill is for the control and regulation of public utilities corporations, which under public franchises serve the public and which enjoy special privileges granted by the State. This will include railroads, trolley lines, telegraph and telephone lines, gas electric, and water companies. This commission will constitute a court of appeal for the public who have grievances, as in the case of Charleroi with the water company, before the filtration plant was installed, and when the gas company raised its rates. The minor grievance of one of the telephone companies in dismissing its collectors and compelling the public to act as messenger boys or pay postage in paying bills without any discount would also come under the jurisdiction of the Public Utilities Commission for adjustment.

Senator Cooper of Allegheny county has introduced an amendment to the Brooks license law that is indorsed by the Anti-Saloon League and temperance people generally. This provides that when the number of qualified electors who sign petitions against license applications exceeds the number of qualified electors who sign the petitions for license, and proof being shown that the applicant has violated any of the provisions of the law, the court shall refuse to grant the license. This gives local option by petition more directly than by the remonstrance plan afforded at present.

The school code is expected to come up for first reading next week. Much local interest is manifested in this measure and the prevailing sentiment seems to be in its favor.

Senator Tustin has introduced a bill fixing the primary election for this year on October 8. This will cause a lull in the political activities of the county, which were beginning to get warm when it was thought the primaries would be held in June.

Funeral Saturday

The funeral of Mrs. Sarah Elliott, who died suddenly Wednesday night, will be held Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock with services at the home, 324 Meadow avenue. Rev. G. G. Kerr will be in charge and will be assisted by Rev. J. C. Ely of Finleyville. Burial will be at Monongahela.

Local Option by Petition

The license decisions of Judge Porter of Lawrence county has created a new precedent in the granting of licenses in Pennsylvania. At the license court in that county was presented such a tremendous remonstrance against the granting of licenses that the court could not well ignore the protest of the people. Out of a total population of 70,000, in the county 18,000 adults signed remonstrances against the granting of licenses. Of these nearly 8,000 were voters, their number practically equaling the average vote cast during the past four years.

This proceeding indicates that the people have the best form of local option obtainable if they will but exercise it—local option by petition. The most of the courts will undoubtedly be governed by the sentiment of the community in regard to the license question, and it is even easier to petition for local option than to conduct a campaign for a vote on the question. The plan has been tried in Lawrence county, and the result has been the same as a popular vote. With the courts in accord with the sentiment of the majority on the question, as the most of them are, local option elections would resolve themselves to but one election every ten years—the election of a judge.

Good Work by Congress

Much useful and progressive legislation was enacted by the session of Congress just ended, although many people are under the impression that it was barren of results in view of the fact that the reciprocity treaty with Canada was not ratified. Here are some of the things that Congress has accomplished during the past session:

Made litigation in the Federal Courts less expensive and made it easier for the poor suitor to appeal his case.

Made it possible for a poor man to represent his country abroad and keep up the dignity of the nation in a becoming manner by providing homes for Ministers and Ambassadors.

Provided for the defense of the Panama Canal and authorized issue of Panama bonds in a manner not to depreciate present issues.

Strengthened the army and navy by providing for more officers and more war ships.

Ratified a new treaty, with Japan which, without offending the national pride of our neighbors on the Pacific will maintain our national policy on Asiatic immigration.

Provided in sundry civil bill for maintenance of Tariff Board whose investigations are expected to show the wisdom of establishing a permanent board.

Machinery of the postal savings bank system has been simplified.

Canadian reciprocity, although not passed, has made progress and if it shall be adopted will mark the beginning of a new relation with our rapidly growing neighbor on the north and ourselves which will insure greatly to the benefit of both.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

If Billy Sunday should come to this part of the valley, would he do the same kind of work in shutting off the liquor traffic that he did in Lawrence county?

President Taft goes South and other noted golfists go too. Accidentally, just accidentally, they meet.

Still the merry process of introducing freak bills in various Legislatures goes on.

Experts are proceeding to discover that an Albany woman is crazy. Naturally she is charged with murder.

Some standard fiction: "No, thanks, I've quit," "It's funny, I've always worn a 2 shoe," "I'm the boss up at our house," "No, sir, I'll never go to another ball game as long as I live."

Open windows during the night tend to prevent a big head, but if a notion to jump out takes possession of a man he has nothing to encounter but the night air. Of course that is bracing, but not quite so hard to get through as a window glass.

The trouble with musical cultivation is that it makes persons so they can't enjoy ordinary tunes.

A youth went forth to serenade the lass he loved the best; and by her home at evening when the sun had gone to rest—he warbled until daylight and he would have warbled more, but morning light disclosed a sign "For Rent" upon the door.

The presence of women at the State Capitol in the interest of Woman Suffrage brought out the announcement that it was a "live issue," which was promptly changed to "live wire" by some newspapers.

The reason an ordinary reporter can't write good society news is that he is not much trained in that kind of adjective degeneration.

Horrors! A New York man attacked a woman with a hat pin. Is that to be taken as another proof that man and woman are to exchange places—man wear the hatpins and other flubdubberies and woman the trousers?

PICKED UP IN PASSING

H. S. Piersol, a former resident of Charleroi who has been living in Texas until a few months ago, when he moved to Artesia, New Mexico, is in town for a few days. Speaking of the military forces there at the present time mention was made of the Texas rangers, and Mr. Piersol was asked if that body, was still in existence.

"Yes," he replied, "the rangers are still doing business, and a most effective law preserving force they are. This organization, which consists of a mounted State police, enforced law and order in all of the frontier communities, and became a terror to law breakers. As they have about chased all the desperadoes to cover their services have been used in getting after gamblers and violators of the liquor laws. For this reason a desperate effort has been made on the part of the gamblers and liquor interests to have the rangers disbanded, but the people would not stand for it, and the rangers are still patrolling the rural communities of the State. It is said that the Canadian mounted police were patterned after the rangers, and that the Pennsylvania State constabulary was organized along the lines of the mounted police. All of them are most effective organizations."

A Charleroi man related the following story at a gathering recently: "I happened in a city restaurant the other night and had hardly got inside the door until I noticed steering for a table a man in such a condition that he would have great trouble catching the steps when they came round" if he managed to get home. Stumbling to a chair he gave an order which was presently brought in. He then reached for the salt cellar and sent it toppling to the other side of the table.

"The inebriated gentleman fixed an unsteady gaze on the receptacle a moment, then said:

"'Are yeou (hic) stewed tew?'"

Former Congressman W. O. Smith, editor of the Punsutawney Spirit, who also served three terms in the Pennsylvania Legislature as Representative from Jefferson county, tells a story of a Representative named Potts who was in the House during Smith's first term. Potts was one of those officious members, who was always butting in on everything that came up. One day, after Potts had been unusually officious, one of the members referred sarcastically to Potts and said he was so distinguished and important that three prominent Pennsylvania towns had been named after him. Instantly Potts was upon his feet.

"May I ask," said he, the names of those towns the member says are named for me?"

"Certainly," replied the other. "They are Pottsville, Pottstown and Chambersburg."

New Theater Stock Selling Fast

$9.50 Per Share

National Theaters Corporation

The people of Charleroi now have the opportunity to become associated with the new local theatre proposition. We have laid out all our plans for completing this new theatre at the earliest possible date, and are waiting for satisfactory weather to permit the Union Construction Company of Chicago and Pittsburgh to commence work as they have the contract for erecting the Charleroi Theater.

It is not our idea to establish this new enterprise with all outside capital, and to that end we are offering to local investors some of the capital stock of the National Theaters Corporation. We believe that many local people would like to become partners with those already interested. It is an opportunity to show your spirit, to help along a first-class local proposition which means so much to the people of Charleroi. This new theatre will be one of the best in the state, and no expense will be spared to make it comfortable as possible and up-to-date in every respect.

The capitalization of the National Theaters Corporation is $50,000 at the present time, but this will be increased in a few weeks when we expect to open our Monongahela City office and commence active work in that city towards the completion of details for the erection of the new theater there. We also expect to present to you for your approval the interior plans of the Charleroi theater in a very few days.

The par value of the stock is $10.00 per share, and it is our intention to distribute it in small amounts among the people of Charleroi. We want them to feel that this theater belongs to them and that the success of the same means not only profits to all stock-holders and bond-holders, but also means first-class productions of the highest character. Under no consideration will we ever allow any burlesque productions to be presented at any of the theaters that the National Theaters Corporation will own, lease or operate.

All those that have subscribed for stock can now call at our Charleroi office for same or mail in their subscription.

Very little stock of this first allotment remains, and as this is a special offering below par, it would be well to mail in your stock subscription this week. If you desire it you can pay for stock purchased on the installment plan, according to your own judgement, although we will allow you profit on the entire amount purchased before it is all paid up, such dividend or increased value profits to be added to your original payments and turned over to you at the expiration of your payment contract.

We invite you to call and get acquainted with us and the new theater proposition. Boost for the new theater, it means much to your progressive and Americanized city.

Fill out this blank and mail it to us. We would be pleased to have our representative call and see you.

The White Whale.
The white whale, or beluga, is an arctic cetacean and closely allied to the narwhal. It is pure white in color, twelve to eighteen feet long, whalelike in form, with a huge muzzle and numerous sharp conical teeth. The white whale swims with extraordinary speed by doubling its huge tail under its body and then striking out with it. Scientists who have studied it in its natural environs say that it is able to catch the swiftest of fish, often pursuing its prey far up the northern rivers. It is gregarious and may be seen at times in herds of forty or fifty. These herds not infrequently gambol around boats in the arctic seas, and the natives of Greenland often capture them with harpoons or nets. The flesh of the white whale, in fact, is a considerable source of food supply to them. From it also is derived one of the finest grades of commercial oil. The skins are tanned and the leather sold in the trade as "porpoise hide."—New York Times.

An Old English Inn.
The Seven Stars is an inn or public house in Manchester, England, which has held a license continuously since 1570. It served as the meeting place for the Guy Fawkes band of conspirators.

A Lightning Change Artist.
The rapidity with which chameleons change their color is marvelous. You gather one from an outdoor shrub and it immediately becomes dark, almost black, hissing and with its mouth wide open, threatening to bite. Meanwhile it is never still, but continues to crawl upward whenever possible—up you, up your sleeve, always upward. By degrees the angry black changes into whatever color is nearest. If one's dress is of a brownish color so is the chameleon's.

CHICKEN THIEVES OPERATE IN FALLOWFIELD TOWNSHIP

Seventy-Five Valuable
Fowls Taken From
One Roost

BLOODHOUND ON TRAIL

Many People Lose Poultry
Within Past Few Weeks
in This Vicinity

Carefully picking out the best fowls, chicken thieves removed about 75 chickens from the roosts of Mrs. Harriet Tuman who lives in Fallowfield township near town, some time after midnight. Bloodhounds were put on the trail this morning, and following the scent over the hill toward Eighth street Charleroi, then owing to the morning traffic in that neighborhood lost the trail.

No sound was heard of the chickens being taken during the early morning hours, but this morning when Mrs. Tuman went to the chicken coop to feed the chickens she found only about 25 of the nice flock of over 100 there. She immediately telephoned to Charleroi and David Mathers went out with his bloodhound. He had no difficulty in putting the dog on the trail and following it over the hill a considerable distance. Only the best of the chickens had been taken, the ones left being the least valuable of the flock.

Mrs. Tuman recently noticed two strange men hanging around near her farm, one a colored man and another a white man. They live in Charleroi, it is said. From their suspicious actions about the Tuman farm it is hinted that they may have been the thieves.

Not long ago Smith Frye lost 24 chickens and about the same time there were a number of valuable fowls taken from the roosts of Rev. J. T. Backett on Fifth street. Chicken thieving has been prevalent in the entire vicinity within the past few months.

SUNDAY IS INTERESTED

Much Anxiety Lest
Evangelist is Unable
To Come

Although an answer is not expected for some time yet from Evangelist "Billy" Sunday definitely announcing his decision on the invitation of Monessen people to come to this part of the valley, much interest is being manifested. The only way in which he will be able to accept the invitation is by a canceled date.

Charleroi people along with Monessen religious workers are interested in the movement to secure the noted evangelist. It is stated that Sunday is really anxious to come. When a committee from the Monessen Ministerial Association visited him at Lima, Ohio, some time ago he heard their invitation, after peremptorily dismissing committees from other towns. His dates are filled for about three years ahead. The present engagement will last for about three weeks longer, and he will not hardly be able to announce his decision on the local invitation until after that time. He will fill a date in McKeesport this summer.

WASHINGTON AVENUES ELECT THEIR CAPTAIN

Plans were talked over for making the team a better one if possible than last season.

BROTHERS MEET FIRST TIME SINCE CHILDHOOD

Elizabeth Man and Charleroi Man Clasp Hands
After Years of Search on Part of the Former

After a search of years James McNatt of Elizabeth has been reunited with his brother Albert of Charleroi, and the two are now endeavoring to locate a younger brother. The latter has been living here for the past eight years, but never knew that his brother was only a few miles distant, and continued an unabated search for him.

When the young men were children, they were left orphans by the death of both parents at Connellsville. The home being broken up, there was no one to take care of the lads and after a while each of the three were adopted by different families. James, the older of the two, remembered his childhood days and when he grew to manhood tried unsuccessfully to find his brothers.

Not many days ago in talking with a Charleroi man, the matter was mentioned that a young man by the name of McNatt had been living in Charleroi. This clue was followed up with the result that there was a happy reunion. Neither James nor his brother Albert have any idea where to look for the younger brother, who is probably unaware that he has any close family connections.

Classes Hold St. Patrick Day Social

At the home of Herbert Mason on Third street members of the Adelphean Bible Class and the Gleaners of the First Christian Sunday school held a "Shamrock Party" last evening. The rooms were prettily decorated in green and white and the same colors were used in the lunch. Shamrocks of all sizes were suspended from the chandelier and crepe paper was used to form the names of the two classes and for other decorations. The lunch consisted of "Murphy" salad, lettuce, sandwiches, pickles, green and white ice cream, cake and coffee. St. Patrick's Day post cards were cut in two and the girls and boys matched them. The partners were then given five minutes to write some "blarney" about each other. These papers were read, to the amusement of all. Other interesting games and contests were enjoyed. A contralto solo was sung by Miss Georgia Parsons, a soprano solo by Miss Jennie Hornell and Robert McGowan rendered several selections on the piano, all of which were greatly appreciated. The Adelphean Bible class, composed of young men, is taught by Miss Belle Parsons. J. M. Whitlatch is the teacher of the Gleaners, the young ladies' class.

"The Rosary"

When Roland and Clifford's new play, "The Rosary," by Edward E. Rose, comes to the Coyle Theatre next Wednesday the discriminating public will be given an opportunity to see pictured before them the growing unrest and irreligion of our times. It is a faithful picture of the misery and unhappiness that surely comes upon a man who lacks faith in the supreme good and its triumphs in our world.

Can one evil mind poison a whole household? Is the human brain capable of producing disastrous effects upon a household by adverse suggestive thoughts?

Do we realize adequately how our mental attitudes influence our lives and the lives about us?

And the answer? Well, the play is the answer. First 8 rows 1.00. Last 8, 75 cents. First 2 in balcony, 75 cents. Balance 50 cents. Gallery 25 cents.

on Sunday Observance Question

Rev. J. T. McCrory, one of the most noted ministers of the State, who is president of the Lord's Day State Alliance, last night gave a lecture on a Sunday observance topic at the First Christian church. His topic was "The Claims of the Rest Day."

Dr. McCrory gave as two reasons for keepings "the Sabbath day holy" the authority of God and the physical demands. He treated the subject from a scientific view and spoke of the Sunday regulation in Pittsburgh now and as it was 30 years ago.

"Pennsylvania has the best law for Sunday observance of any State in the union," declared Dr. McCrory, "but it is no not so rigidly enforced in some places as it should be."

Dr. McCrory came here at the instance of the Ministerial Association which has begun a movement for better Sunday observance in Charleroi.

DAN CUPID IS WINNER

Pretty Romance Culminates in Wyatt-Garr
Wedding

Cupid wasn't to be downed by even a college president in the pretty little romance of Charles S. Wyatt, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Wyatt of Shady avenue, and Miss Sadie J. Garr, until recently head of the normal department of Morris Harvey college at Huntington, West Virginia. The young woman is no longer Miss Garr but Mrs. Wyatt, the ceremony which united the two lives being performed yesterday morning in Huntington the protests of the college president that a career was far better than even a happy marriage still ringing in the ears of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt are now visiting the former's parents and they will remain in Charleroi for a few days at least.

Mr. Wyatt and Miss Garr met some time ago, and after he had gone to Huntington to sing in recitals came the announcement of the forthcoming wedding. That didn't exactly please Prof. R. H. Alderman, principal of the Morris Harvey college, who rightly had a very high opinion of Miss Garr's ability and didn't want to lose her valuable service. But that didn't make much difference at the time being, but after the marriage license had been procured Miss Garr was persuaded to change her mind about getting married. She remained in her place the remaining days of the week, but Cupid was mad at being bested in the first combat, and soon had matters coming his way again with the result that Mr. Wyatt went to Huntington from Philadelphia where he had been, following the first break and before Prof. Alderman hardly knew it the couple were wedded. He heartily congratulated the couple, however, although sorry to lose so efficient instructor as the bride.

Mr. Wyatt is well known in Charleroi although he has been making his home mostly in Philadelphia.

Governor Tener's Idea
to be Carried In-
to Effect

PREVENTS UNJUST RATING

People Would Have Court
of Appeal on Grievances
Against Corporations

(Special Correspondence)

Harrisburg, March 17.—The Public Utilities Commission bill, which Governor John K. Tener advocated in his inaugural message, will be introduced in the Legislature the latter part of next week. It has been carefully prepared by Attorney General John C. Bell, and will be ready for final inspection by Governor Tener on Monday. The bill is for the control and regulation of public utilities corporations, which under public franchises serve the public and which enjoy special privileges granted by the State. This will include railroads, trolley lines, telegraph and telephone lines, gas electric, and water companies. This commission will constitute a court of appeal for the public who have grievances, as in the case of Charleroi with the water company, before the filtration plant was installed, and when the gas company raised its rates. The minor grievance of one of the telephone companies in dismissing its collectors and compelling the public to act as messenger boys or pay postage in paying bills without any discount would also come under the jurisdiction of the Public Utilities Commission for adjustment.

Senator Cooper of Allegheny county has introduced an amendment to the Brooks license law that is indorsed by the Anti-Saloon League and temperance people generally. This provides that when the number of qualified electors who sign petitions against license applications exceeds the number of qualified electors who sign the petitions for license, and proof being shown that the applicant has violated any of the provisions of the law, the court shall refuse to grant the license. This gives local option by petition more directly than by the remonstrance plan afforded at present.

The school code is expected to come up for first reading next week. Much local interest is manifested in this measure and the prevailing sentiment seems to be in its favor.

Senator Tustin has introduced a bill fixing the primary election for this year on October 8. This will cause a lull in the political activities of the county, which were beginning to get warm when it was thought the primaries would be held in June.

The funeral of Mrs. Sarah Elliott, who died suddenly Wednesday night, will be held Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock with services at the home, 324 Meadow avenue. Rev. G. G. Kerr will be in charge and will be assisted by Rev. J. C. Ely of Finlayville. Burial will be at Monongahela.

Local Option by Petition

The license decisions of Judge Porter of Lawrence county has created a new precedent in the granting of licenses in Pennsylvania. At the license court in that county was presented such a tremendous remonstrance against the granting of licenses that the court could not well ignore the protest of the people. Out of a total population of 70,000, in the county 18,000 adults signed remonstrances against the granting of licenses. Of these nearly 8,000 were voters, their number practically equaling the average vote cast during the past four years.

This proceeding indicates that the people have the best form of local option obtainable if they will but exercise it—local option by petition. The most of the courts will undoubtedly be governed by the sentiment of the community in regard to the license question, and it is even easier to petition for local option than to conduct a campaign for a vote on the question. The plan has been tried in Lawrence county, and the result has been the same as a popular vote. With the courts in accord with the sentiment of the majority on the question, as the most of them are, local option elections would resolve themselves to but one election every ten years—the election of a judge.

Good Work by Congress

Much useful and progressive legislation was enacted by the session of Congress just ended, although many people are under the impression that it was barren of results in view of the fact that the reciprocity treaty with Canada was not ratified. Here are some of the things that Congress has accomplished during the past session:

Has made litigation in the Federal Courts less expensive and made it easier for the poor suitor to appeal his case.

Made it possible for a poor man to represent his country abroad and keep up the dignity of the nation in a becoming manner by providing homes for Ministers and Ambassadors.

Provided for the defense of the Panama Canal and authorized issue of Panama bonds in a manner not to depreciate present issues.

Strengthened the army and navy by providing for more officers and more war ships.

Ratified a new treaty, with Japan which, without offending the national pride of our neighbors on the Pacific will maintain our national policy on Asiatic immigration.

Provided in sundry civil bill for maintenance of Tariff Board whose investigations are expected to show the wisdom of establishing a permanent board.

Machinery of the postal savings bank system has been simplified.

Canadian reciprocity, although not passed, has made progress and if it shall be adopted will mark the beginning of a new relation with our rapidly growing neighbor on the north and ourselves which will insure greatly to the benefit of both.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

If Billy Sunday should come to this part of the nation, would he do the same kind of work in shutting off the liquor traffic that he did in Lawrence county?

President Taft goes South and other noted golfers go too. Accidentally, just accidentally, they meet.

Still the merry process of introducing frank bills in various Legislatures goes on.

Experts are proceeding to discover that an Albany woman is crazy. Naturally she is charged with murder.

Some standard fiction: "No, thanks, I've quit." "It's funny, I've always worn a 2 shoe." "I'm the boss up at our house." "No, sir, I'll never go to another ball game as long as I live."

Open windows during the night tend to prevent a big head, but if a notion to jump out takes possession of a man he has nothing to encounter but the night air. Of course that is bracing, but not quite so hard to get through as a window glass.

The trouble with musical cultivation is that it makes persons so they can't enjoy ordinary tunes.

A youth went forth to serenade the lass he loved the best; and by her home at evening when the sun had gone to rest—he warbled until daylight and he would have warbled more, but morning light disclosed a sign "For Rent" upon the door.

The presence of women at the State Capitol in the interest of Women Suffrage brought out the announcement that it was a "live issue," which was promptly changed to "live wire" by some newspapers.

The reason an ordinary reporter can't write good society news is that he is not much trained in that kind of adjective degeneration.

Horrors! A New York man attacked a woman with a hat pin. Is that to be taken as another proof that man and woman are to exchange places—man wear the hatpins and other flubdubberies and woman the trousers?

PICKED UP IN PASSING

H. S. Pierson, a former resident of Charleroi who has been living in Texas until a few months ago, when he moved to Artesia, New Mexico, is in town for a few days. Speaking of the military forces there at the present time mention was made of the Texas rangers, and Mr. Pierson was asked if that body, was still in existence.

"Yes" he replied, "the rangers are still doing business, and a most effective law preserving force they are. This organization, which consists of a mounted State police, enforced law and order in all of the frontier communities, and became a terror to law breakers. As they have about chased all the desperadoes to cover their services have been used in getting after gamblers and violators of the liquor laws. For this reason a desperate effort has been made on the part of the gamblers and liquor interests to have the rangers disbanded, but the people would not stand for it, and the rangers are still patrolling the rural communities of the State. It is said that the Canadian mounted police were patterned after the rangers, and that the Pennsylvania State constabulary was organized along the lines of the mounted police. All of them are most effective organizations."

A Charleroi man related the following story at a gathering recently: "I happened in a city restaurant the other night and had hardly got inside the door until I noticed steering for a table a man in such a condition that he would have great trouble 'catching the steps when they came round' if he managed to get home. Stumbling to a chair he gave an order which was promptly brought in. He then reached for the salt cellar and sent it toppling to the other side of the table.

"The inebriated gentleman fixed an unsteady gaze on the receptacle a moment, then said:

"'Are yeon (hic) stewed tew?'"

Former Congressman W. O. Smith, editor of the Pottstown Spirit, who also served three terms in the Pennsylvania Legislature as Representative from Jefferson county, tells a story of a Representative named Potts who was in the House during Smith's first term. Potts was one of those officious members, who was always butting in on everything that came up. One day, after Potts had been unusually officious, one of the members referred sarcastically to Potts and said he was so distinguished and important that three prominent Pennsylvania towns had been named after him. Instantly Potts was upon his feet.

"May I ask," said he, the names of those towns the member says are named for me?"

"Certainly," replied the other. "They are Pottsville, Pottstown and Chambersburg."

New Theater Stock Selling Fast

$9.50 Per Share

National Theaters Corporation

The people of Charleroi now have the opportunity to become associated with the new local theatre proposition. We have laid out all our plans for completing this new theatre at the earliest possible date, and are waiting for satisfactory weather to permit the Union Construction Company of Chicago and Pittsburg to commence work as they have the contract for erecting the Charleroi Theater.

It is not our idea to establish this new enterprise with all outside capital, and to that end we are offering to local investors some of the capital stock of the National Theaters Corporation. We believe that many local people would like to become partners with those already interested. It is an opportunity to show your spirit, to help along a first-class local proposition which means so much to the people of Charleroi. This new theatre will be one of the best in the state, and no expense will be spared to make it comfortable as possible and up-to-date in every respect.

The capitalization of the National Theaters Corporation is $50,000 at the present time, but this will be increased in a few weeks when we expect to open our Monongahela City office and commence active work in that city towards the completion of details for the erection of the new theater there. We also expect to present to you for your approval the interior plans of the Charleroi theater in a very few days.

The par value of the stock is $10.00 per share, and it is our intention to distribute it in small amounts among the people of Charleroi. We want them to feel that this theater belongs to them and that the success of the same means not only profits to all stock-holders and bond-holders, but also means first-class productions of the highest character. Under no consideration will we ever allow any burlesque productions to be presented at any of the theaters that the National Theaters Corporation will own, lease or operate.

All those that have subscribed for stock can now call at our Charleroi office for same or mail in your subscription.

Very little stock of this first allotment remains, and as this is a special offering below par, it would be well to mail in your stock subscription this week. If you desire it you can pay for stock purchased on the installment plan, according to your own judgement, although we will allow you profit on the entire amount purchased before it is all paid up, such dividend or increased value profits to be added to your original payments and turned over to you at the expiration of your payment contract.

We invite you to call and get acquainted with us and the new theater proposition. Boost for the new theater, it means much to your progressive and Americanized city.

Fill out this blank and mail it to us. We would be pleased to have our representative call and see you.

A Lightning Change Artist.

The rapidity with which chameleons change their color is marvelous. You gather one from an outdoor shrub and it immediately becomes dark, almost black, hissing and with its mouth wide open, threatening to bite. Meanwhile it is never still, but continues to crawl upward whenever possible—up you, up your sleeve, always upward. By degrees the angry black changes into whatever color is nearest. If one's dress is of a brownish color so is the chameleon's.

The White Whale.
The white whale, or beluga, is an arctic cetacean and closely allied to the narwhal. It is pure white in color, twelve to eighteen feet long, whalelike in form, with a huge muzzle and numerous sharp conical teeth. The white whale swims with extraordinary speed by doubling its huge tail under its body and then striking it in its natural environs say that it is able to catch the swiftest of fish, often pursuing its prey far up the northern rivers. It is gregarious and may be seen at times in herds of forty or fifty. These herds are frequently gambol and leap in the air, and add the natives of Greenland often capture them with harpoons or nets. The flesh of the white whale, in fact, is a considerable source of food supply to them. From it also is derived one of the finest grades of commercial oil. The skins are tanned and the leather sold in the trade as "porpoise hide."—New York Times.

An Old English Inn.
The Seven Stars is an inn or public house in Manchester, England, which has held a license continuously since 1370. It served as the meeting place for the Guy Fawkes band of conspirators.
